NEW AID TO FIVE MILLION MOVEMENT

United Effort by Nation Wide Leaders to Secure Prohibition Plank in Republican and Democratic Platforms.

The nation wide movement for National Prohibition furthered by the effort to secure Five Million voters who shall pledge themselves to vote only for such party and candidates as stand committed by State and National platform declaration to the overthrow on the liquor traffic is beginning in its sweep throughout the country. Not only is this movement, which was inaugurated by the Flying Squadron, being aided by the co-operation of various Prohibition committees, the Christian Endeavor Society and various state organizations of the W. C. T. U. and Temperance Federations, but it now has a new ally in the Committee of Sixty.

The Committee of Sixty composed of officials and politicians of all parties, scientists, economists, educators, representatives of labor organizations and business men has just made public its purpose to induce all parties, including the Republican and Democratic to adopt a Prohibition plank in their National platforms this year.

The Committee, which was not formed in the interest of any particular party movement, has secured much active support and co-operation among the reform and social leaders in all parts of the country and claims to have the promise of important backing among leading politicians at coming conventions. They expect to enroll voters upon the Five Million pledge, contributing their co-operation to this movement in an effort to swell the Five Million enlistment. However, they will use this enrollment in a direct manner to force the issue of National Prohibition upon the old line parties.

That the parties are bound to seriously consider this movement is indicated by the political declaration of the Committee, which announces that whenever "politicians or parties prefer the liquor traffic above health, efficiency, and morals, such men must be set aside and such parties abandoned." Nearly all the members of the Committee of Sixty are either Democrats or Republicans.

The personnel of the committee embraces men and women from all parts of the country.

The Committee in their appeal to the delegates and leaders of the coming conventions declare, what they assert to be absolute findings of modern science, namely, that alcohol is the enemy of public health, business efficiency and national morals. They also claim that Prohibition has made so much progress in the last four years as to deserve a place in the national platforms of all political parties.

They base this conclusion partly on the fact that since the last Presidential election the Webb-Kenyon law passed Congress by a vote of more than two to one, in spite of its having been vetoed by President Taft, and that the House of Representatives over a year ago gave a majority vote in favor of the Hobson constitutional amendment, despite the position of party leaders on both sides of the House. They also point that the majority of the people of the United States, 60 per cent, already live in territory voted dry and that in area, 89 per cent is under prohibition law. They call attention also to Prohibition throughout the world, not only in Russia and the other warring nations across the waters, but also in Canada, New Zealand and generally throughout civilization.

They also maintain that recent incidents in many states indicate that our people are as much interested in the question of Prohibition as in the question of preparedness; that, in fact, as determined in the European countries now at war it is a vital preliminary necessity to effective preparedness and therefore believe it should have as much attention in party platform.

The plans of the Committee of Sixty are quite conservative. However, they are determined that National Prohibition shall become the dominating issue of the 1916 campaign.

MEXICO'S UPLIFT—A SUPERHUMAN TASK

Rev. W. E. Vanderbilt, a Presbyterian missionary to Mexico, makes this interesting observation with regard to conditions in that afflicted country:

"I believe that many of the men who have taken part in the revolutionary movement are sincerely anxious to do all that they can to elevate the common people. The task is almost superhuman, and they are working under the handicap of having many associates who are in the movement for what they can personally get out of it. I am firmly convinced that the present offers greater opportunities for the advancement of the Gospel than ever in the history of Mexico. I am keen to take advantage of these opportunities."

VILLA SIGNED FOR SCREEN STAR

The sanguinary Mr. Villa who is just at present playing for the hide and seek championship is under contract to the Lubin Company to play the lead in a photoplay feature for which a scenario has already been written. For matter was first brought up last December by a newspaper correspondent who reported to Sigmund Lubin that he would make a real star in motion pictures. Villa replied that there were certain considerations that might make such a thing possible.

When advised of this situation Mr. Lubin at once wired his California representative, Captain Wilbert Melville, to get on the job at once and shortly thereafter Captain Melville and Villa were in conference. Several scenarios were subsequently submitted before Mr. Villa in his quick absorption of the temperamental qualities of the photoplay star placed his approval on the one that met his requirements and to be made at his demand. The financial consideration also called for diplomatic argument, but Captain Melville finally obtained Villa's signature which incidentally is the only word the great disturber is able to write.

"The Star of Mexico" with Villa in the limelight was to have filled six reels. Work on it was to have started April 15 in Chihuahua.

WHY THE FARMER'S WIFE IS FORTUNATE

In the June Woman's Home Companion is an article by a farmer's wife who says:

"Given a good husband and good health, there's no one in the world who needs pity less than the farmer's wife. She has a rich and resourceful life if she will make it so and she usually does. She's the most independent woman on earth of panics and money stringencies and things of that sort. Her family simply can't go hungry. There'll always be potatoes and turnips down in the cellar and meat in the smokehouse, to say the least. She's always got eggs and chickens and milk; she can take a bushel of wheat to the mill and get it ground for ten cents; she can draw on her storeroom for fruit and sweets, and her table is supplied. When the mechanic is out of work, his family must stop eating or live on charity, but isn't so in the farmer's family. Capital and Labor have got to do some mighty hard grinding before they grind the farm."

A HAPPY MARRIAGE MAY DEPEND ON RUNNING THE FURNACE PROPERLY

In the June Woman's Home Companion a settled married man asks: "What use is there in a man making a success of his profession if his wife and young children are going to freeze? The very foundation of a serene and decent family life lies in a man's knowing how to run his furnace properly and with economy. Sending a young man to the altar without a proper knowledge of furnaces is a think next to criminal. It means that his innocent young wife will now broil one minute and freeze the next. It means during the first two years of marriage, when people are forming their relations to one another, countless nervous irritations will come as a sequence to that ill-managed furnace. Tempers will be wrecked, hasty words, perhaps, the health and temper of the family will suffer, and the finances of the family inevitably be impaired. The little extra fund of money that should go for recreation will fly up the chimney, caused by drafts left imprudently open."

THIS SINGLE BRAND OF RED TAPE COSTS $10,000,000 A YEAR

"Transferring farm ownership from seller to buyer should not be the occasion for a hold-up," says Farm and Fireside, "but too often this is exactly what occurs in two senses. From five to ten million dollars is not too great an estimate of the needless expense involved in the transfer of American farms annually.

"In certain States and parts of States, among which are Illinois, Minnesota, New York, Massachusetts, and Washington, the transference of a farm from seller to buyer is merely the registrar of the county. The certificate of the register thereafter settles the matter. There is no going back of his certificate. Lawyers' and abstractors' fees are no longer necessary. Every time a tract of land changes hands the certificate of title is transferred to the owner.

"This new plan, which makes possible the quick, safe, and sane changing of land ownership, is known as the Torrens system of keeping the record of land titles. All that is required under the Torrens system is for the owner of land to take his abstract to the registrar of titles of the county. If the deed is found good a certificate of title is issued by the registrar.

"Then why not make use of this system the country over? All farmers are keen for this new system as soon as they realize its advantages, but efforts to adopt it are met by strong opposition from lawyers and abstractors, and the makers of our laws, be it remembered, are practically all lawyers."

HOW TO BE EFFICIENTLY MARRIED

In the June Woman's Home Companion is an article entitled "How I Made a Good Husband of My Son" in which the writer lays down some rules for a course of domestic training for bachelors, who are thinking of being married.

"Besides heating the house," he says, "a man should have a thorough theoretical, and a simple practical, knowledge of plumbing, so he can be beyond the mercy of an ignorant or dishonest plumber. The upkeep of all the furniture is your province; you should be able to replace a castor automatically, or in your sleep put on the pull of a bureau drawer.

"Of course he will not call in a painter when floors or woodwork need painting or a man to replace panes of glass or put up shelves, or any of the smaller tinkering around the house, any more than his wife should hire a woman to darn the stockings or do the small mending.

"One of his most important duties is to see that each window and door is properly screened. He should keep all the shades in proper order and smoothly, also keep the locks of all doors in perfect order. He should have a general knowledge of building materials, so he will be able to advise his carpenter. Naturally, too, he will keep the knives in proper condition, and no young man should wait until he is married to learn how to carve."

HOW TO MAKE MUSHROOM CATSUP

"Mushroom catsup may be made after the following recipe," says a writer in Farm and Fireside.

"One peck mushrooms, carefully picked over, one pint vinegar, two tablespoonfuls salt, one-half teaspoonful cayenne, two tablespoonfuls mustard, one tablespoonful cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful mace, one-half tablespoonful cloves.

"Cook the mushrooms with one cupful of water until quite tender, and rub them through a colander. Add to this pulp the vinegar and spices, and cook about half an hour longer. Bottle and seal.

"This sauce is delicious with fish, steak, and cold meat."
